MISSIONARY GIFT DAY AT KINGSTOWN.

ADDRESS BY THE ARCHBISHOP.

The annual Gift Day in aid of the Church Missionary Society and the South American Missionary Society was held yesterday in the Church Hall attached to the Mariners' Church, Kingstown. Rev. Canon H. B. Kennedy, B.D., Rector, presided. There was a large attendance and the function proved highly successful. Addresses were given in the afternoon by Miss Tholiatt, Nigeria Missionary, and Rev. F. E. Wyland, Central Secretary, Home Church Missionary Society. Mrs. G. P. Murray and Miss Knapp sang several songs excellently. His Grace the Archbishop of Dublin attended the evening meeting, and delivered an address.

Canon Kennedy, in introducing the Archbishop, said that they offered his Grace a hearty welcome to the Mariners' Church, Kingstown. On their Gift Day last year they realised £141, which was about £10 less than in the previous year. This year they hoped to have at least that amount, and when all was gathered there might be more. Already during the afternoon they had received £105. (Applause.)

The Archbishop then delivered a short address. He thanked the gathering for their cordial welcome, and promised to visit them again sometime on a Sunday. The purpose of their gathering was to assist in the great missionary work of the Church of God and to help the Church Missionary Society. For a gift day it could be said that there was something elevating and pure in the people's coming there for the single purpose of giving for the single carrying on of the work of our Master.

THE KING'S MESSAGE.

Continuing, His Grace said that they were all thrilled that morning when they read the message from His Most Gracious Majesty the King. His Majesty asked the people to unite in solemn silence at the eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month, the anniversary of Armistice Day, in commemoration of the end of the great war. He was sure also that they would let their thoughts rest on those through whose sacrifice, under God, that war was ended and won. He thought that the King's message was a noble thought, and it was a noble way to keep that day. He hoped that they would so keep it. His Grace compared the great war in the spirit in which it was entered by those who fought on the right side with the conflict in which they all had to engage in order to fight for the cause of the Church of God. He congratulated them on the work that they had in hand, and said that he was glad to have had the opportunity of seeing the way in which missionary work was being helped by the congregation of the Mariners' Church. (Applause.)

Canon Kennedy, in conveying to the Archbishop a hearty vote of thanks, informed his Grace that last year they had collected £480 for missionary work in that parish.

Dr. H. P. Marrable then gave an interesting lantern lecture which greatly interested the meeting.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

THE CHAIR OF IRISH IN TRINITY COLLEGE.

Letter from Professor Culverwell.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—The case against the appointment of a Roman Catholic to the Chair of Irish has been put with such effect by Mr. Quigley, and so many Protestants have been alarmed by what he and others have said or written, that I feel it right that the facts of the case should be put before those of your readers who are interested. But, before doing so, may I deprecate charges of bigotry and intolerance, such as Mr. Quigley complains of? Only a strong sense of duty could have induced Mr. Quigley, himself an unsuccessful candidate for the Chair, to have raised the question whether a breach of trust had been committed—a quite proper question to raise, and one which certainly should not involve charges of intolerance.

May I equally deprecate such expressions as that used by Mr. Quigley when he says that the Royal Commission was "shamefully misled" because the appeal to the subscribers to the Fund which supplies a part of the endowment was not submitted to the Commission? Had it been so submitted, he says that "it would have completely changed their conclusions"—i.e., he believes that they would have found that the foundation was a sectarian one. Had Mr. Quigley endeavoured to lay that document before the Commission, he would have found that Sir Edward Fry, its Chairman, was not so easily misled as he supposes. Whether Professor McNeill and Mr. T. W. Rolleston intended to submit it I do not know, but they made repeated attempts to introduce considerations relating to the Irish Society, in order to show that, founded by it or its friends, it must have been a denominational Chair. Time after time, Sir Edward very courteously, as was his way, headed them off, maintaining his point that the Commission had nothing to say to any opinions the subscribers might have held unless they imposed those opinions on the deed which founded the Chair. Unless Mr. Quigley could have shown him that the views which he alleges to have inspired the appeal were expressed in the deed, he would have found Sir Edward just as courteous and just as immovable as he was to the two witnesses who, actuated by very different motives from those of Mr. Quigley, endeavoured to put the same construction on the deed.

But, after all, no Commission is infallible, and my desire is to act fairly in the matter, apart from any question of legal technicality. I therefore, come to the real question at issue: Did the Committee who acted on behalf of the subscribers to the Fund desire to found the Chair as a Divinity School Chair, to be held by a clergyman, or did they desire it to be a full Arts Chair? It is clear that they desired that the holder should teach Irish to divinity students, and thus "provide for the ministry of the Gospel" in Irish. That was their first desire, but the real question is: Did they desire that it should be taught by one who was also competent to teach theology, and who, attached to the Divinity School, might be expected to do so, or did they desire that he, as an Arts Professor, should teach Irish language, leaving divinity to the Divinity School staff? This question we can only answer by appealing to the arrangements they made for filling vacancies. If they intended the Chair to be a Divinity Chair, it is clear that they would have provided that the trustees with whom the selection was to rest were capable of judging of his qualifications as a Professor in the Divinity School, and they would certainly have included the two heads of the School, the Regius Professor and the Archbishop, King's Lecturer, among the six trustees, and might well have added the Archbishop of Dublin, who, with the Provost, might be expected to give four clerical members out of the six—though the Provost, as they must have known from Hely Hutchinson's appointment, might be a layman.

But they did nothing of the kind. There were five original trustees, and of these only one was in Orders. Though they provided that there should ultimately be six trustees, one of whom was to be the Provost, they did not raise the initial number to six by adding the Provost, as would have been natural, as he had taken a leading part in the movement. Strange though it be, this seems to suggest that they did not want more than one cleric among the nominators to the Chair. Again, look at the final constitution of the nominating body. It was to consist of the Provost and the two members of Parliament, with three more trustees elected from time to time by the surviving trustees. The members of Parliament must be laymen, would naturally be men of the world, not chosen for their religious convictions, and, as the trustees must have known, might in time be Roman Catholics; for Catholic Emancipation had not long been passed, and already, even in England, a seat had been gained by a Roman Catholic. But I would not pursue this latter consideration: all I want to show is that every provision in the deed shows that the intention was to establish an Arts Chair, not a Divinity Chair. (I ought here to add that Mr. Quigley's statement that, up to the date of Prescott's Act, no Roman Catholic could hold a professorship is a mistake. There were several for which there was no test—e.g., the Erasmus Smith's Professorships.)

I want to answer Mr. Quigley straightly and without reserve, and I freely admit that the trust deed has been included, but surely not "flagrantly violated"? The appointment of Dr. Dames should have been advertised a clear fortnight before the three trustees met to elect others. This provision, evidently put in to keep the subscribers in touch with the trustees, was not fulfilled, but its fulfilment would have made no difference in the result. There were also, as Mr. Quigley says, other "violations," all of a technical nature, except that five trustees only were appointed instead of six. But, as the nomination was unanimous on the part of the four trustees present, even this does not now seem a material point.

With regard to the alteration in the "Red Calendar," which seems to some to be evidence of a deep-laid plot, I have not inquired into its origin, because it seems so obvious to me to be assumed, as Mr. Quigley does, that the professorship was a Protestant one; but when it appeared that it was an undenominational one the editor of the Calendar, no doubt, thought that words indicating a sectarian origin might be misleading, and had better be omitted.

In proposing, as I did, the resolution that the Board should approve the nomination of Mr. O'Rahilly to the Chair of Irish, I acted, as I believe, in the best interests of the College and of all the students, Divinity and Arts, because Professor O'Rahilly is an outstanding man in his subject, one who will, as I believe, teach Irish to the students better than it has ever been taught before, and quite independently of the School to which those students belong. And I do not see how, having regard to the circumstances of the deed, I could have voted in any other way. It is true that I felt that some would have turned in their graves at the appointment, but to be guided by such considerations would be to stereotype the future on the lines of the past; and I, at least, would never use any power I might possess to prevent those who, coming after me, live in a different atmosphere, from doing things which would make me turn in my own grave.—Yours, etc.,

EDWARD D. CULVERWELL.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—I am constrained out of courtesy to Mr. Quigley, and by the enthusiasm of his observations, to reply to his letter of the 6th inst., but this must be my last word on the subject. My original letter was intended for the guidance of my fellow-Synodsmen, and to deprecate the appearance of intolerance and the unwisdom of impulsive discussion of what was really a legal question.

One member of the Synod, a lawyer, wisely suggested the propriety of waiting until the terms of the trust deed had been considered, while another observed that it would take some time to arrive at its exact meaning, as it was couched in "crabbed legal language." None had seen or considered its effect. The trustees, in performances of their duties, had nominated a Roman Catholic for the chair, and the Provost and Senior Fellows, in performance of theirs, duly appointed him.

The whole of Mr. Quigley's resolution before the Diocesan Synod was, in effect, an assumption that the trustees and the Provost and Senior Fellows had acted illegally, violated the trust, and defeated the intentions of the founders of the chair—a bold assumption, to be approached at least with deference and caution. In view of Mr. Quigley's observations, I have again referred to the deed. It presents no ambiguity or difficulty, and is clear and concise in its terms, and I can only assert that, if it was framed in 1843 in furtherance of a sectarian policy, or with any intention of binding the trustees or the University thereto, as is alleged, the parties to that document were amazingly careful to conceal the fact. I can find no such suggestion, beyond what Mr. Quigley claims as one, in the fact that the ultimate gift of the fund in events that have not happened, and are not likely to happen, was to "the Society for promoting the education of the poor of Ireland through the medium of their native language, to forward the objects of that Society"—a society intended to benefit the peasantry.

That an ultimate gift of a trust fund to another and a wholly different object, on failure of its express five purposes, should dominate the latter is an extravagant and untenable proposition. The fact is that none of the interesting matters referred to by Mr. Quigley, either antecedent or subsequent thereto, is admissible in construing the deed, the effect of which was simply to found a chair for the Irish language in general terms, and to afford the trustees as nominators, and the Provost and Senior Fellows, a free hand in the appointment of a Professor.

The whole aim and object of the evidence offered by those in favour of a National University before the Commission of 1906 was to identify the University as exclusively Protestant, and this particular chair as united to the Divinity School; and it is strange to find Mr. Quigley eagerly accepting the arguments and evidence of Mr. John MacNeill and Dr. Douglas Hyde, while rejecting that of the Rev. Mr. Murphy, the then and last occupant of the chair, himself a Protestant clergyman, who stoutly disclaimed that his chair or its functions were in any way whatsoever identified with the Divinity School or dominated by any trust for religious purposes.

In conclusion, I can only say, as a Protestant, and I trust a good one, that, in my opinion, the higher objects of University education have been secured by, and alone influenced, this appointment, the trustees, the Provost, and the Senior Fellows having no other duty before them. I may also be permitted to say that I have never yet come across "the deadly, never-ceasing propaganda pursued by the Roman Catholic Church among Protestants here" to which Mr. Quigley refers. I regret his language; I deplore its irrelevance.—Yours, etc.,

THE COST OF FOOD PRODUCTION.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—Although I am not a professional farmer, it may be of some interest to your readers to know what it actually cost me during the past three years to produce foodstuffs on a small property of forty Irish acres within seven miles of the City of Dublin.

The rent of land in my neighbourhood during the current year has been on the average £15 the acre Irish. I need hardly say that, at the market prices ruling during the period, with the exception of wheat, I have been amply rewarded:—

THANKS FROM CONSTANTINOPLE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—I wish to thank all who have so kindly sent the Weekly Irish Times and other papers. I am now returning home, after giving my six months' service to the Y.M.C.A. Our centre at Chanak is also closing, so I require no more. Our Irish boys enjoyed the Irish Times—it brought home before the Xmas.—Yours, etc.,

(Rev.) F. HENRY ALDHOUSE.

STATE LOTTERIES.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—It may interest some of your readers to know that our Rotunda Hospital was built by State Lottery in 1753. Essex street Bridge was built out of funds obtained in similar manner. Why not Premium Bonds?—Yours, etc.,

"SANS HAZARD."

APPEALS.
URGENT APPEAL.
"Whence shall we buy bread that these may eat? This He said to prove him."—St. John, vi.
THE Master's question to His disciples centuries ago, when in a "desert place" surrounded by many who needed to be fed, voices the problem faced just now by those who are responsible for the care and upkeep of and, while their faith is being tested, they look around for some, who like the boy who gave all that his baskets contained for the Master's use, are willing to co-operate.
The prohibitive prices of food, clothing, fuel, footwear, etc., now that winter has come, emphasises the necessity for this urgent appeal.

The Irish Times.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1919.

The War Office issues reports of the situation of the North-West Russian Army up to 6 p.m. on November 4th, which show that there has been a further Russian retirement. From the Omsk district it is announced that a great battle against the Bolsheviks is impending, that the removal of all useless inhabitants from the town has begun, and that Omsk is to be turned into a fortified camp.

Sir Edward Carson, in an interview printed by the Matin, is reported to have said that, if the Nationalists had consented to take part in the government of Ireland, they would have changed the face of the Irish problem. The rejection of the six counties exclusion scheme he attributed to Roman Catholic opposition in the House of Commons. He foresaw only two possible solutions of the Irish problem—either the maintenance of the Union or else complete independence.

The House of Commons yesterday passed the second reading of the National Assembly of the Church of England (Powers) Bill.

Sir Auckland Geddes, speaking at Newport last night, laid stress on the need for the speedy decontrol of commodities. The trade balance-sheet, as against the Exchequer balance-sheet, must be righted. High profits were discouraging all classes. Increased production and greater exports, he said, would result in the greatest prosperity in the history of the country, and Britain now had the greatest trade opportunity of all time.

The Board of Trade returns for October give last month's exports at £79 060,802, compared with £42,920,724 in October of last year, an increase of £36,240,168. The highest amount of exports prior to last month was shown in August of this year, when the value was £73,773,278. Last month's imports were valued at £155,486,152 (also a record total), against £117,629,803 in the corresponding month last year, an advance of £35 856,359.

Mr. Asquith has declined an invitation to stand as Parliamentary candidate for East Fife.

At the meeting of the Governors of the Rotunda Hospital yesterday, Dr. Gibbon FitzGibbon was elected Master in succession to Dr. Henry Jellett, whose term of office had expired.

In London the Stock markets recovered slightly from the Lombard street shock; but in the majority of cases prices declined. Even the remarkable Board of Trade figures failed to stem the fall in Home Rails. The Money market was unsettled. Following the rise in the Bank rate, Treasury bill rates were advanced. 4 to 4¼ per cent. was the rate for day-to-day money. In Dublin the Stock market was steady,

LONDON CORRESPONDENCE.

60 FLEET STREET, LONDON,
FRIDAY NIGHT.

After the solemn celebration of Armistice Day, according to the King's desire, it seems probable that there will be a more lively celebration by the public. The demand for fireworks for the evening is tremendous, and it seems that many people have given up the keeping of Guy Fawkes Day, an occasion quite lost sight of among the younger generation during the war, and intend to celebrate on Armistice Day instead. There are now very few restrictions on the use of fireworks, and it may be regarded as certain that next Tuesday evening will be a reproduction of last November 11th.

The Motor Show at Olympia is remarkable for the fact that it is almost impossible to buy a car. A car may be ordered, but when it will be delivered is quite another story. The Show, nevertheless, is a triumphant success. Thousands of people awaited the opening of the doors this morning, and two hours after the Show had opened all previous records had been broken. It is a wonderful Show, though it would be interesting to know what the Coal Controller thinks of the blaze of countless thousands of electric lamps burning away merrily, though unneeded, in the daylight.

An article by Lord Hugh Cecil in the Pall Mall Gazette on "The Government and its Critics," is chiefly remarkable for a passage descriptive of the Prime Minister's speech in the recent financial debate. It should be premised that Lord Hugh served in the R.A.F. during the war. Mr. Lloyd George, he says, "sailed off into the air as in an aeroplane, and, after looping the loop several times, he began to look about for his ostensible destination—the good town of economy. But, as often happens, he lost his way in the air, and, seeking for a place to descend, caught sight of the New Jerusalem. Thither he turned his machine, and made a capital landing in a green field in the neighbourhood of the city. It is a smooth, and very green field, and is called the field of hope, and I have heard that pedestrians find that the access to the New Jerusalem from it is less easy than it appears when viewed from an aeroplane. However that may be, in the field of hope the Prime Minister landed, and, alas! nowhere near the good town of economy."

There was a strong ecclesiastical atmosphere about the House of Commons to-day, and members discoursed at length on the relations between Church and State. The occasion was the second reading of the Church of England (Powers) Bill, a private measure which emanated in the Lords, and for which the Government have agreed to give facilities. The Bill, in effect, seeks to give the Established Church more freedom in the management of her internal affairs; to remove the scandal of the sale of livings; and put some limit on the tenure of an incumbency. The second reading was moved by Sir Edward Beauchamp, who was followed by Mr. Broad in a speech urging that the Church could only secure real liberty by being disestablished and disendowed. Sir John Randles, though himself a Nonconformist, welcomed the Bill, but Mr. G. R. Thorne was absolutely uncompromising, and warned the promoters of the Bill that they were fostering sectarian strife.

Support for the Bill was forthcoming from Mr. J. F. Hope, a Roman Catholic, and a relative of the Duke of Norfolk, and Mr. Joynson-Hicks went so far as to approve, with considerable misgivings, of a second reading, his fear being that the passing of the measure would lead to alterations in the Book of Common Prayer.

Lord Robert Cecil, a staunch Churchman, declared that the constitutional effect of the Bill had been greatly exaggerated. It took away no powers from Parliament, but provided machinery for the removal of abuses which were hampering the work of Christianity.

Sir Donald Maclean was unable to support the Bill, which was likely to lead to a new demand for disestablishment.

Mr. Bonar Law intervened in the debate late in the afternoon. He did not pretend to speak as the representative of the Government, the Bill being left to the free vote of the House, but, as a private individual, he thought the promoters of the measure not unreasonable in their demands. Whilst the Church could not be regarded as a private institution, it had, he felt confident, the right to decide certain questions without outside interference.

Colonel Wedgwood had almost the last word. The hon. member for Newcastle-under-Lyme, in heated phrases, denounced the bishops for preaching the brotherhood of hate during the war, for refusing to help the conscientious objector, and finally wound up by describing them as religious bigots. He would vote against the Bill, at which the House cheered again and again. The division was then taken, with the result that the second reading was carried by 304 to 16.

It is the intention of the Government to send the Bill to a Committee upstairs, but who will be in charge of it Lord Edmund Talbot was unable for the moment to state when the question was put to him by Mr. Hogge.

A deputation from the Ulster Temperance Council visited the House of Commons to-day, and will be in town for some time, in order to formulate with the Ulster Unionist members a local veto bill for that province. There is a strong feeling in the province in favour of prohibition, and the bill will have the support of Sir E. Carson and the great majority of his colleagues.

Mr. Thomas for the moment, seems to have won the long-continued struggle in the National Union of Railwaymen for supremacy, and he is the supreme head of that body, with a salary of £1,000 per annum. He is to be assisted by an industrial secretary, and it is likely that there will be another struggle between the moderates and extremists among the railwaymen for the nomination of this post. Mr. Thomas naturally will want somebody who will work in sympathy with his views, but it seems rather unlikely that he will be successful. The extremist party mean to make every effort to get their man appointed.

For some time past it has been rumoured that there were to be changes in connection with the General Headquarters of the Home Command, and now it is stated that it will be abolished at the end of the year. What will then become of Lord Haig, who is now Commander-in-Chief, is unknown; but it is suggested that he may become Inspector-General of the Forces, a post held by the Duke of Connaught prior to the war. This is a position that takes the holder anywhere in the British Empire where there may be British troops.

I see that, in discussing Professor Einstein's new theory of the universe, Dr. Crommelin remarked that "space would no longer be looked on as extending indefinitely in all directions; if they went far enough, they would re-enter the same ground. Euclidean straight lines could not exist in Einstein's space. They were all curved." I speak with all deference, but did not the pure mathematicians discover this long ago?

KINGSTOWN AND HOLYHEAD ROUTE.

The City of Dublin Steam Packet Company's steamer Ulster has been taken off mail service between Kingstown and Holyhead for refitting, and the London and North-Western Railway Company's new steamer Curraghmore has temporarily taken the place of the Ulster. The Curraghmore made the first passage yesterday afternoon. Leaving Holyhead at 2.30, she reached Kingstown at 5.30, thus making the journey in three hours.

Lord Brassey was knocked down by a taxicab in Westminster on Thursday evening, and is suffering from concussion. His present condition is a cause for some anxiety.

FROM "THE TIMES" OF TO-DAY.

(BY SPECIAL ARRANGEMENT WITH THE PROPRIETORS OF THE TIMES.)

THE PROBLEM OF MESOPOTAMIA.

The Times, in a leading article to-day, says: The Prime Minister said in the economy debate that, having emancipated vast regions from the blighting influence of the Turks, we could not return home and leave them derelict. In our view, assent to this proposition requires careful qualification. It has been said that we drifted into the control of India in a fit of absence of mind, but this position is now too involved to permit us to undertake vast new responsibilities in Mesopotamia and elsewhere in a similar blind and casual manner. Our present information leads us to believe that the Government are contemplating huge designs in Mesopotamia, without sufficient consideration, and without accurate and impartial knowledge. The issue is so weighty that, in our view, nothing of a definite and permanent nature should be settled until the whole problem has received full examination at the hands of Parliament. The time is past when any Government could commit the nation to the acquisition of a considerable new Empire—for that is what the Mesopotamian project really means—without first making an exhaustive public statement of their intentions. The Mesopotamian enterprise is full of pitfalls, and on the grounds both of finance and of military risk our people are entitled to know what is being done. We publish to-day the first part of an article by a Correspondent who has just spent three years in Mesopotamia, and is frankly opposed to a permanent British occupation. We do not identify ourselves with his views, and are inclined to think that some of his statements may be controverted, but he knows something of administration, and certain of his arguments deserve attention. Our own Special Correspondent in the Middle East has recently travelled through Mesopotamia, and we hope soon to be able to publish his conclusions. His private despatches show that he is deeply impressed by the work of the civil administration, and on the whole, his views run counter to the article we print to-day. Both sides are entitled to a hearing, and our only anxiety is that this country should not wake up one morning to discover that it has acquired great additional burdens in the Middle East, of the character and the cost of which it was totally unaware.

HARNESSING THE RHONE.

France, says The Times, has resolved to exploit the vast resource of the Rhone at a cost of £100,000,000. The projected works, which extend from Geneva to a point a few miles north of Tarascon, will take many years to complete, but each successive stage will be self-supporting. The three main objects of the scheme are the improvement of transport, the production of electric power, and irrigation. When the locks and deviations have been made, barges of 1,200 tons will be able to pass from the Mediterranean to Geneva by Lyons. The Rhone valley will resume its ancient claim to be one of the great highways of Europe. It appears that no extensive works are contemplated below Tarascon, and the river is already navigable for heavy barges from that point to the desolate, but well-equipped, Port of Louis du Rhone. The total fall from Geneva to the sea is over a thousand feet, and it is calculated that the utilisation of this water-power will produce as much electricity as would come from 5,000,000 tons of coal.

DR. ALBERT EINSTEIN.

Dr. Albert Einstein, says The Times, whose astronomical discoveries were described at the meeting of the Royal Society on Thursday as the most remarkable since the discovery of Neptune, and as propounding a new philosophy of the universe, is a Swiss Jew, 45 years of age. He was for some time Professor of Mathematical Physics at the Polytechnic at Zurich, and then Professor at Prague. Afterwards he was nominated a member of the Kaiser Wilhelm Academy for Research in Berlin, with a salary of 18,000 marks (£900) per annum, and no duties, so that he should be able to devote himself entirely to research work. During the war, as a man of Liberal tendencies, he was one of the signatories of the protest against the German manifesto of the men of science who declared themselves in favour of Germany's part in the war, and at the time of the armistice he signed an appeal in favour of the German revolution. He is an ardent Zionist, and keenly interested in the proposed Hebrew University at Jerusalem, and has offered to co-operate in the work there.

THE ETHER OF SPACE.

Sir Oliver Lodge, in a letter to The Times to-day, writes—I was rash enough to express a hope for a result equal to half Einstein's value. But the double-valued result can be assimilated and specified in various ways, one of which is the ponderability of light, coupled with a definite effect of motion on the Newtonian constant of gravitation, an effect which the behaviour of Mercury and other planets has already rendered probable; while another is the vaguer suggestion that one of the two ethereal constants responsible for the velocity of light is affected by a gravitational field, so as to cause a kind of refraction. In any case, I would issue a caution against any too hasty acceptance of great and complicated generalisations concerning space and time on the strength of the splendid result. I trust that it may be accounted for with reasonable simplicity in terms of the ether of space. Meanwhile, I heartily congratulate Professor Einstein, and also the skilled and painstaking observers who have so admirably verified his striking and original prediction.

A GREAT IRISHMAN.

In a review of Captain Stephen Gwynn's new book, "John Redmond's Last Years" (Edward Arnold, 16s. net), The Times to-day says:—At a moment when the future of Ireland hangs in the balance, Captain Stephen Gwynn has called back the great shade of John Redmond. It is not yet two years since the Irish leader died. The Ireland to which he devoted all his life and powers is still at the cross-roads where it stood at his death. A change has passed over the surface of its politics. New men and new policy have replaced the old, but the problem of its Government still remains. The crowded events of the last twenty months had almost thrust the memory of Redmond aside, and it was a true service both to Ireland and to Great Britain to cause the ring of his voice, and the high ideals for which he contended, to be heard again at this time. From the moment when, first entering the House of Commons as a member in 1881, he found Parnell, the leader to whom he adhered to the end—" the calm and pale-featured young man," facing an angry assembly which he had kept within "the precincts" for 40 hours—until he made his last tragic admission of failure at the Irish Convention, Redmond fought neither for fame nor reward, but from sheer sense of duty for the right of Ireland to self-government. In "John Redmond's Last Years" Captain Gwynn deals mainly with the events from 1912 to the spring of 1918. Up to this period he leads by an introduction, which, in itself, is an admirable sketch of Irish political history since the early 'eighties. Through it the central figure looms larger and larger, until it fills the whole field of vision. Eventually it stands heroically before the world in the famous scene in August, 1914, when Redmond, on his own responsibility, pledged Ireland to the Allies' cause—the crowning moment of his life. Few in this country or, indeed, in Ireland have ever realised how grave was the decision which confronted the Irish leader at the time. He knew his country well. He had faith in the generosity of its people. He had confidence in his own power to speak for them. He believed in the righteousness of the war. "I say to the Government that they may to-morrow withdraw every one of their troops from Ireland. Ireland will be defended by her armed sons from invasion, and for that purpose the armed Catholics in the South will only be too glad to join arms with the armed Protestant Ulstermen." Germany may have counted on Britain being entangled in Irish affairs. One Irishman had the power to defeat those hopes, and he did not hesitate in action. Captain Gwynn explains how suddenly the determination was made, and how the vision of the statesman was justified in the event.

REGISTRATION OFFICER'S IMPORTANT DECISION.

Over 2,000 Nationalist votes are affected by a decision of the Registration Officer, Mr. Stuart C. Ross, at Derry Revision Sessions, holding that claims where the declarations have not been signed by the claimant in person are invalid. Notice of appeal was given.

DEMOBILISED IRISH SOLDIERS AND UNEMPLOYMENT.

Sir Maurice Dockrell will ask the Minister of Labour in the House of Commons on Monday how many Irish soldiers have been demobilised; for how many of these has employment been found; what is the percentage of unemployment amongst them as compared with that amongst demobilised British soldiers; what agencies are at work in the matter, and to what extent the services of influential civilians have been availed of in the endeavour to find employment for these men.

DEMOBILISED OFFICERS, R.A.S.C.

A dinner for demobilised officers of the R.A.S.C. who have served Overseas, is arranged to take place on Tuesday evening, November 11th, at 7.15, at the Hibernian Hotel, Dublin. At the request of the committee Lieutenant-Colonel W. S. Swabey, C.B., C.M.G., Director of Supplies and Transport, Irish Command, has consented to take the chair. Uniform will be optional

ALEXANDRA COLLEGE—HERMIONE LECTURES.

The opening lecture of the course to be given under the Hermione Trust, at Alexandra College, will take place on Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock. This year the course will treat of art from a fresh point of view, discussing the relation of the Arts to daily life, and reviewing their share in the progress of civilisation, their influence on the mind and spirit of man and on the practical affairs of life. The lectures will appeal specially to those interested in handicrafts or any form of the art of design, as the Council of Alexandra College have secured as lecturer Mr. Henry Wilson, the President of the London Arts and Crafts Society. The first lecture is entitled "The Arts of Life in Prehistoric Times," and at this lecture Dr. J. Joly, D.Sc., F.R.S., Warden of Alexandra College, will preside. The lecture will be illustrated by photographs shown by limelight.

THE GLORIOUS DEAD.

LETTER FROM THE ARCHBISHOP OF DUBLIN.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—I trust there will be a ready response to the request of His Gracious Majesty the King, that Tuesday next, at 11 o'clock, the date which marks the close of the Great War, should be observed by a solemn silence.

For most people this will be an impressive pause in the middle of their time of busiest occupation. But there are others who have more leisure, and who could most fittingly commemorate the Divine gift of peace, and the great sacrifices which won it, with due solemnity in the House of God.

I suggest that in some of the more central of our churches a very short Service should be held at 10.45, and that, after the silence at 11, a simple thanksgiving should be offered. The whole should not last more than twenty minutes.—Yours, etc.,

CHARLES F. DUBLIN.

The Palace, Dublin,
November 7th, 1919.

CHRIST CHURCH CATHEDRAL.

ARMISTICE DAY.

On Tuesday next Matins will be sung in Christ Church Cathedral at 10.45 a.m. A pause will be made at 11 a.m., as commanded by the King. There will be a non-choral celebration of the Holy Communion in the Lady Chapel at 11.30.

ARMISTICE DAY.

THE NATIONAL WAR MEMORIAL.

The first anniversary of the signing of the Armistice with Germany is at hand. A year ago the world was in an agony of suspense. Peace seemed to be in sight, and yet so accustomed had we become to the monotonous torture of war that we could hardly believe our eyes on that fateful November morning. Then the world went mad. The streets of London, Dublin, Paris, Rome, New York, and even Berlin, were thronged with merry-makers. Life became sweet again; the bitter waters of adversity were forgotten, and mankind rejoiced.

That was a year ago. In the meanwhile, alas, much of the gilt has worn off the gingerbread, and we have discovered that victory's fruits have yet to be garnered. We have discovered that the Armistice did not put an end to our manifold troubles and anxieties; in many ways the reaction has been as bad as the war. We all have tried to forget the war during the last year; to fix our minds upon the domestic problems of peace; and to secure a place for ourselves and our children in the general scramble for jobs, benefits, and enjoyment by which the year has been characterised. We have tried to shut our eyes to the ugly facts of the war: to the misery, bereavement, privation, suffering which it has left as a universal legacy. We have tried to forget that one out of every fifty of our race has been killed; that our streets are filled with maimed and disabled soldiers; and that thousands of men who offered their lives without a thought are now destitute, hopeless and in despair. While the war was on we were all lavish in our praise. The men had to be encouraged; otherwise we might lose the war, and then good-bye to our comfortable armchairs and well warmed slippers. Now the war is over; we have won; so that is all right.

Such, too often, is the attitude of those for whom our soldiers fought. Next Tuesday the consciences of most of us will be awakened again. For two minutes on that day complete silence will be observed throughout the British Empire in commemoration of the signing of the Armistice with Germany. All work will cease, the roar of the street and the workshop will be silenced, and the thoughts of a hundred million people will turn to the memories of our multitude of dead. Even the most irreverent among us will be impressed. The solemnity of silence will chasten the frivolity of thoughtlessness, and a great host of British soldiers and sailors will pass in procession before our fancy. Two minutes can contain a lifetime, and when they have passed we shall plunge again into the vortex of daily life richer by a wealth of memory and a fuller appreciation of our debt to the dead.

The observation of silence, in itself, will be a striking tribute to our fallen soldiers; but it will not be enough. It will not cost us anything. There will be few among us on Tuesday who have not cause to be thankful. Husbands, brothers, fathers, friends were not stored to us by the Armistice twelve months ago. Our minds were freed from the daily dread of the casualty lists. Our country was saved; our children were spared; and our future was secured. Too many of us have taken victory for granted. We have been content to cheer ourselves hoarse, to wave a few flags, and so to bed. The anniversary of the Armistice provides a fitting opportunity for the expression of our gratitude in a more tangible, if less ostentatious, form. The subscription list for the Irish National War Memorial are still open. Have you given anything? A year ago we all would have been glad enough if a subscription to a fund would have secured the signature of the Armistice for the Germans. Most of us would have given all we possess; but, luckily, our soldiers saved us the trouble. They gave their lives; but they won the war. "I believe that my people in every part of the Empire," says His Majesty in his appeal to the nation, "fervently wish to perpetuate the memory of that great deliverance, and of those who laid down their lives to achieve it." The Irish people are not forgetful of the mercies of Providence, and our War Memorial will express our gratitude for our "great deliverance," as well as our love and pride for the brave men who sank to rest in its consummation.

OLD AGE PENSIONS.

REPORT OF SIR R. ADKINS'S COMMITTEE.

COST OF POSSIBLE NEW SCHEMES.

The report of the Committee on Old Age Pensions, presided over by Sir Ryland Adkins, M.P., was laid on the table of the House of Commons yesterday, and will, it is hoped, be available for circulation on Monday. There are, in fact, two reports—a majority and a minority report—the difference of opinion being not as to the amount of the pensions or as to a pensionable age, but on the question whether there should be any "means limit" for pensions or whether they should be universal.

THE MEANS LIMIT.

Eleven of the eighteen members recommend the abolition of any "means limit"—viz., Sir Ryland Adkins (Chairman), Sir Theodore Chambers, Mr. Dunford, Mrs. Baker, Mr. S. Walsh, M.P., Mr. T. Devlin, M.P., Mr. G. R. Thorne, M.P.; Mr. Arnold Rowntree, Mr. Appleton, Mr. Matheson, and Mr. Woodall. The minority, consisting of Sir Henry Robinson, Sir Arthur Teller, Sir Alfred Watson, Colonel Raw, M.P., Major Jamieson, M.P., Mr. Comyns, and Mr. Macpherson, recommend that the existing means limit (£31 10s.) should be allowed, and no more. The minority also suggest certain modifications in the method of calculating means.

THE POOR LAW DISQUALIFICATION.

The Committee are unanimous in recommending the abolition of the poor law disqualification of applicants for pensions, or of pensioners, as regards outdoor relief. The majority and the minority reports both recommend that the pension should be ten shillings a week, and that the age limit should be seventy. To these two last recommendations there are reservations by certain members of the Committee. Mr. Thorne and Mr. Rowntree, of the majority, and Colonel Raw, of the minority, recommend 10s. 6d. Mrs. Baker, Mr. Devlin, and Mr. Walsh recommend 65 years, and Mr. Thorne and Mr. Rowntree recommend 65 years where the financial position allows.

RECONSIDERATION OF AMOUNT.

It should be added that the majority report—to which on these points the minority report takes no objection—states that if future changes in the poor law are inadequate for the purposes, the amount of the pension must be reconsidered, and that if developments of the Insurance Acts or other methods, are not found effective, the lowering of the age must be considered. The Committee are, further, unanimous in recommending that pensions should accrue as from the Friday following the date of the receipt of the claim, and that there should be no disqualification following a term of imprisonment, and that pensions should be made inalienable under the Debtors Acts.

There are also certain unanimous suggestions as to the terms of residence and the treatment of aliens. Mr. Appleton, who was prevented by absence in America from sharing in settling the report, has indicated his support of universal pensions, but does not share responsibility for the other recommendations with regard to the cost of the various proposals.

COST OF PENSIONS.

The present scale of old age pensions imposes on the Treasury an expenditure of about 17½ millions. To raise the pension to 10s. per week, on present conditions, would cost 23½ millions. To raise it to 10s., doubling the present "means" scale, would represent an expenditure of 32 millions, or, perhaps, a little more. The cost of universal pensions at 10s. a week would be 41 millions, or a little over that amount. To give the pension at the age of 65, at 10s. a week, on present conditions, would mean an expenditure of 38 millions, and if the present "means" scale is doubled, the cost would be 51 millions. Universal pensions of 10s. a week would cost 70 millions. It may be noted, however, that these figures are necessarily estimates, and, though they are based on the best information available to the Committee, their absolute accuracy cannot be guaranteed.

SIR PATRICK DUN'S LINEN GUILD.

The twelfth annual meeting of Sir Patrick Dun's Linen Guild will be held at the hospital on Monday next, at 4.30 p.m. This Guild was the first of its kind established in Dublin, and its value can be judged by the fact that for the past nine years it has supplied all the linen and bedding required by the hospital. Owing, however, to the increased cost of materials and the great financial difficulties of the hospital, funds are now urgently needed to carry on this good work. The Lord Lieutenant has signified his intention to be present. The speakers will include the Provost of Trinity College, the Archbishop of Dublin, Mr. Justice Samuels, Rev. Father M'Nevin, the Solicitor-General for Ireland, and Sir Henry M'Laughlin.

FRIENDS OF ULSTER.

A meeting of the Protestant Alliance was held at the Queen's Hall, London, last night.

Mr. Daniel Wardle, who presided, said that the Alliance demanded the withdrawal of our envoy to the Pope. One of the greatest events in Protestant history, he said, took place on Monday last, when an Orange Lodge was formed at the House of Commons, to be known as "The Friends of Ulster Lodge, Parliamentary Lodge of England." Cheers.

Mr. William Coote, M.P. for County Tyrone, also spoke.

NORTHERN RUSSIA

A FURTHER RETIREMENT.

GREAT PREPARATIONS AT OMSK.

BIG BATTLES IMPENDING.

The War Office issues the following:—

Reports received of the situation of the North-West Army up to 6 p.m. on November 5th, show that there has been a further Russian retirement. The present line of the Esthonian supporting column, on the left of the North-Western Army, runs from the sea, unchanged, to Gorlovo, eleven miles south-west of Oranienbaum, thence to the south to Antaschi, a village on the road from Yamburg to Krasno Selo, twenty miles south-west of the latter place, where the Esthonian right touches the Russian left. The North-West Army lines continues to Vladimirshaya Station, fifteen miles south-west of Gatchina, on the Yamburg

FINANCIAL NEWS

DUBLIN STOCK EXCHANGE.

REALISATIONS CAUSE REACTION ON DEARER MONEY. COATS IRREGULAR.

The advance in the value of money had, as expected, a quieting effect on week-end dealings, and realisations generally were affected at a fresh, but not important, set-back in prices, especially in Government Funds. Guinness and Marconi shares relapsed. City Steam maintained the previous day's advance. Parent Tyre Defd. were firmer, but Dunlop Rubber Ord. eased a trifle. Rails did not change much, but "Wicklow" Pre.-Ord. issues sagged a little. Textiles were active, and Coats Ord. improved. Oil and Tobacco shares shaded off some fractions, but the undertone was not unfavourable.

Most of the changes in Government Funds were adverse. Consols fell ¼, War Loan 5 p.c. ½, and India Stocks ½ to ¼. Irish Land Stocks, however, hardened ¼. National War Bonds were easier.

Banks were very little altered. Northern "A" rose ½, and Munsters fell ½. Bank Stock and Royals were firm.

In Breweries, etc., Guinness Ord. relapsed ¼ to 35½, and Dublin Distillers Pref. were supported at last price.

In Steam, City of Dublin repeated 275, while in Marconi issues the Ord. fell ¼ to 6½, and Americans 1s. 3d. to 32s. 6d.

Home Rails were mostly quiet. No change was shown in Ord. Stocks, but in Pre-Ord. issues Great Northern Debs. rose ¼ to 75¼; while Wicklow Pref. fell ½ to 55, and the "A" Debs. realised 63½.

As regards Dunlops, Parent Tyre Def. recovered 6d. to 63s. 6d., and the Ord repeated 23s. 6d. Dunlop Rubber Ord. realised 9½.

Gas, Bakery, and Drapery Shares were unaltered.

Among Manufacturing Shares, Textiles monopolised attention. Bleachers rose 6d. to 34s. 6d., Coats Ord. ½ to 9½, ¼, and the Pref. ½ to 11½; while the Pref. Ord. fell ¼ to 49¼. Dyers at 50s. 6d., Cottons at 95s., and Spinners at 78s. 6d., were all firm. Lever Bros. "B" Pref. fell 1½d. to 20s. 4½d.; but Vickers rose 1½d. to 34s. 6d., and the Pref. realised 20s. 4½d.

In Trading, etc., Shares, Burke Debs. rose ½ to 8½ x.d., and Findlater Debs. quoted 60s., a drop of 10s. on last price.

As regards other business done, Baldwin Pref. 10s. paid, realised 10s. 1½d. Burmah Oil fell ¼ to 18½, Mexican Eagle ½ to 11½, and Shells ½ to 10½. Imperial Tobacco eased 7½d. to 68s 3d. Others featureless.

After hours Coats improved ½ more to 10, and Dunlop Rubber Ord. ½ to 10 also. Parent Tyre Def. closed 63s. 6d., Shells 10½. Fine Spinners buoyant, and up to about 81s.

STOCKS DEPRESSED BY DEAR MONEY.

FUNDING AND VICTORY LOANS FEEL THE BURDEN MOST SEVERELY.

(FROM THE FINANCIAL NEWS OF TO-DAY.)

Though apprehensive and hesitating at the first, markets managed in part to adjust themselves to the changed monetary conditions, of which another earnest was given by an advance in the rates of discount on Treasure Bills, now-a-days a more effective standard than the Bank rate itself. It was in the speculative departments that repercussion, after the shock of Thursday's surprise, first manifested itself. The Oil Market led the recovery in a determined way, it becoming evident that the curtailment of loans was not forcing sales to any considerable extent. One or two other strong features were visible in the miscellaneous group, where business ultimately reached a big volume. Home Government Stocks were extremely flat under the stress of dearer money, but closed perceptibly above the lowest. The two latest loans lost most heavily on balance. Colonials and other investment descriptions felt the depression and Home Railways went on crumbling. Trunks were weakened by the opposition to the Purchase Bill in the Dominion Senate. Argentine Rails failed to rally after an initial setback. The Foreign Market was again more inert and heavy than flat in terms of quotations, though a number of Chinese issues were lower. French Loans and Peruvians kept steady.

LONDON STOCKS IMPROVING.

RECOVERY FROM LOMBARD STREET SHOCK.

Week-end influences and dearer money were restrictive factors on the Stock Exchange, but already some departments showed a tendency to rise superior to the intrusion of Lombard street into the Stock Exchange position. The advance in Treasury bill rates had been expected, and only had a temporary influence, and during the afternoon the speculative rush in the Oil, Mining, and Industrial groups developed a fair degree of strength. The investment sections remained rather off colour. In the gilt-edged group, War Fives further fell ¼ to 91¼. Consols were back to 61. Business in miscellaneous fledged securities was light and spotty, and quotations mostly tended downwards where they moved. The Funding Loan kept around 75¾ and Victory Bonds around 82¾. Colonial Loans were dullish, without material change. After market hours the issue of 2½ millions of Metropolitan Water Board 5½ p.c. Stock at 96 was announced.

Changes—Falls: Consols, ½ to 51; 5 p.c. War Loan, ¼ to 91½; 3 p.c. Irish Land Act, ½ to 57½; 2½ p.c. do., ½ to 53; India 3 p.c., ½ to 55; do. 3½ p.c., ½ to 63.

FOREIGN BONDS IRREGULAR.—In the Foreign market conditions were ragged. French Loans were overshadowed by the preparations for the big National Loans on the other side of the Channel. The Fives receded ½ to 66½, and the Fours were dull. Russians showed more steadiness, despite the confused news regarding the Bolshevik position. There was some marking down of Chinese Bonds, which closed with several falls of a point. Among South American Peruvians met light realising after their recent rise. Brasilian Bonds marked occasional falls of a point, but Mexican Gold Fives at 58 were rather better.

Changes—Rises: Mexican Fives, ½ to 58; Russias, Fives, ½ to 43½. Falls: Brazil Fours, 1 to 54; do. Funding, 1914, 1 to 75; Chinese Fives, 1 to 85; Fours, do 4½ p.c., 1 to 71½; do. Fives (1912), 1 to 75; French Loan, ¼ to 66½; Peruvian Corp., ½ to 84; do. Pref., ½ to 36½.

RAILS QUIET.—Home Rails lacked animation, but developed better resistance on small declines, and were finally inclined to go better. Most of the principal Trunk and Trade Stocks merely marked time. Midland Def. rallied ¼ to 53. Southern Stocks were rather offered in the Passenger section.

"Canpacs" held at 177, but there were scattered falls of ½ to 1 among Grand Trunks on the keen opposition in the Canadian Senate to the Nationalisation Bill. Mexican Rails were dull. There were some further falls of ¼ among Argentine Rails, though selling was not important.

Changes—Rise: Midland Def., ¼ to 53. Falls: Brighton "A," ½ to 55½; Chatham, ½ to 10½; Hull and Barnsley, ½ to 50; North-Eastern Consols, ½ to 90; South-Eastern Def., ¼ to 33½; Denver Common, 1 to 19; do. Pref., 1 to 19; Grand Trunk, ¼ to 10½; do. Guar., ½ to 58½; do. 3rd Pref., 1 to 22; Antofagasta Def., 1 to 126½; B.A. Great Southern, 1 to 83; B.A. Western, ½ to 87; Central Argentine, ½ to 67½; Central Uruguay, ½ to 80½; San Paulo Ord., ¼ to 185.

INDUSTRIAL SPECULATION CHECKED, BUT NOT BROKEN.

COATS BUOYANT ON OPTIMISTIC FORECASTS OF THE "MELON."

(FROM THE FINANCIAL NEWS OF TO-DAY.)

The Miscellaneous and Industrial market was irregular yesterday, but dealings were on a fair scale, and, despite week-end influences, there were clear evidences that the intrusion of the dearer money factor into the market situation had only checked and not broken the speculative spirit. The opening was unsettled, the advance in Treasury Bills rates, though expected, having some disturbing effect; but during the afternoon many specialities developed quite a robust appearance, and the market closed for the recess with confident expectations of next week's developments. Coats were a buoyant feature. Post-dividend selling, which had depressed the shares overnight, was more than offset by fresh support, based upon optimistic forecasts of the "melon," which is to result from the capitalisation of reserves, and which is to be known to-day. Shipping Securities were moderately favoured, and Banks remained spottily good. The Wireless group presented a firmer front, and selling of Catering Shares appeared to have dried up. Iron and Steel descriptions, on the other hand, were dullish in the absence of the expected Labour improvement. Motors were irregular, and Cement descriptions were offered back to some extent. Insurance Shares were again reactionary, apart from strength in North British and Mercantile. In the Land group, Hudson's Bays were bid up another ½ to 8¼, and Duffs established a further rise to 19s. 6d. on persistent rumours of a change of control. Rio de Janeiro Land rallied 3d. to 12s. 3d. Sudans did not move. Niger Old Shares were 6d. better at 77s., but Pekin Syndicates flattened rather decidedly to £2s., a loss of 1s. 3d. Among Banks, Bank of Australasia showed renewed strength, jumping 5 to 149. In the Insurance section, North British and Mercantile were strong, rising 3 to 59, but elsewhere movements consisted in falls of ½ to ½. Higher priced Shipping Shares, though firm, usually finished without change, but Cunards were further advanced ¼ to 3¼, and Furness Withys gained ½ at 54. Coats, among Textiles, soared ½ to 10. In the market it was expected that the share bonus would be at least on a share-for-share basis. Sewing Cottons settled back ½ to 4¼. Courtaulds worked forward ½. Caterers had a better undertone. Aeradeds were ½ higher on the session at 4¼. Liptons and Lyons held steady. A further rise of ¼ to 27½ occurred in Liebigs, and Bovril Def. drooped ½. Tobacco Shares did not show to advantage. Motors registered mixed changes on adjustments, but the undertone was distinctly good, helped by the expected results to the industry from the Show. Vauxhalls were lifted ½ to 1¼, and Darracqs were in good request, registering the same advance to 2½. Cubitts Ord. and Pref., however, fell 1s. to 22s. and 18s. respectively. National Steam Cars continued their retrogression to 17s. 6d. There was a further jump of ¼ to 6¼ in Amalgamated Press Shares on bonus talk. Cements were realised. Breweries were erratic, and the higher-priced Stocks were mostly lower where they varied. As regards Wireless issues, Marconi Ord. mended ¼ to 6¾. The Pref. rose the same fraction to 6¼, and the Marine Shares picked up ¼ to 3½. Spanish Wireless reacted 6d. to 13s. 6d., and the Canadian Shares lost the turn. The American Shares held around 32s. 6d. Anglo-American Cable Pref. lost ¼ at 92½. Among Iron and Steel Shares, Rengal Ord. held firm around 12, but small declines predominated in the general list. Pearson and Knowles gained ¼ at 1¾, and Lysaghts at 51s. were the turn better. Armstrongs settled back 6d. to 37s., and the 2nd Pref. also shed 6d. J. Brown Ord. at 32s. and Cargo Fleets at 28s. each yielded 6d. Argentine Iron Pref. drooped to 15s. 6d. Corp Ord., in the Coal group, picked up ¼ to 23½. There were several declines of ½ to 1 among Canadian-American Securities on week-end adjustments. Dominion Steels were back 1 to 79, unstimulated by reports of negotiations for a large block of shares by important shipbuilding interests. Canadian General Electric at 111½ was a point better.

CHARTERED A STRONG FEATURE AMONG MINES.

AFTER EARLY HESITANCY MARKETS HARDEN—SEVERAL BRIGHT SPOTS.

(FROM THE FINANCIAL NEWS OF TO-DAY.)

The speculative departments of the "House" soon recovered from the fright which the raising of the Bank rate had given them, and yesterday the Mining market, despite the approach of the week-end was quite cheerful again. It is true that during the early hours some selling was indulged in by nervous provincial speculators, but this soon came to an end, and the good demand which subsequently sprang up for specialities imparted a more confident tone to the whole market. There were not many outstanding features in the Kaffir section, but the inquiry for Anglo-American Corporation showed no signs of slackening, and "C.X.S." and one or two others were steadily on the up grade. Chartered provided the sensation of the day, and many thousands of shares changed hands at rapidly rising prices. The buying was described as of an influential character, and was thought to be in anticipation of the report of the Commission on the company's claim against the Government, though in well-informed quarters it is document is not expected to make its appearance much before the end of the year. Other Rhodesians were not greatly affected, but the tone was firm at the close.

Diamonds were very steady, and Premier advanced sharply, but the inquiries for the other leaders were of such an unostentatious character that quotations were unaltered. Tins continued to enjoy a considerable amount of attention, and among the Cornish descriptions Geevor were in good demand and higher. The annual report and accounts were issued, and show a gross profit of £26,528 for the twelve months to March 31st last, as compared with £14,764 for the preceding fifteen months. From the manager's report it will be seen that a great deal of development work has been done, and in order to take advantage of this the crushing capacity is to be increased to 8,000 tons per month. This necessitates further outlay, and it is proposed to increase the capital by the creation of 180,000 additional 10s. shares, and to offer them share for share to existing holders at 15s. per share. This at the current price represents a bonus of about 5s. 3d. per share. Nigerians were inclined to harden further under the lead of Mongu and Tin Areas, the latter being a very busy centre, and Bisichi was in request. The West African Gold Producers were being nibbled at in anticipation of increased profits from the high premium obtainable on outputs, but Barriers and Westralians were dullish on the unsatisfactory labour position. Coppers were irregular, and Russians reflected the poor news from the other side. Elsewhere Burmas and Bawdwin were in good request and higher, and Chemical and Metallurgical went ahead smartly. Esperanza were a strong spot, but other Mexicans were inclined to droop.

PRONOUNCED RECOVERY IN LEADING OILS.

RENEWED STRENGTH SHOWN BY EAGLES, SHELLS, AND BURMAHS.

(FROM THE FINANCIAL NEWS OF TO-DAY.)

In anticipation of provincial sales following upon the setback of the preceding day, a certain amount of caution was observable in the Oil Share Market at the opening yesterday. As a matter of fact, however, very little selling was encountered, and, such as there was, was more than counterbalanced by fresh buying induced by the lower levels. In these circumstances, confidence was quickly restored and active bidding quickly brought about a pronounced recovery. In the street dealings the prices of one or two leading descriptions came back slightly, but on balance Burmahs, Shells, and Eagles were all appreciably higher. Bonus talk led to a further smart advance in Anglo-American Oils, in which a big business was done. Renewed strength was shown by Trinidad issues, Trinidad Oilfields, Centrals, and Leaseholds all moving up appreciably. The recovery was also particularly marked in Anglo-Egyptian B, Venezuelan Oil Concessions, Lobitos, and Kern Rivers. British Burmahs continued in demand and further improved, and gains were scored by British Borneos and Assams. Russian issues remained on the dull side, Urals and North Caucasians again moving down. RUBBER SHARES STEADY.

(FROM OUR FINANCIAL CORRESPONDENT.)

The price of rubber was unchanged at 2s. 6d. per lb. Business in the Share market sobered down somewhat—the effect no doubt of Thursday's rise in the Bank rate, and dealings were not upon quite such a large scale as of late. Nevertheless, shares were turning over in large numbers, and quite a lot of quotations were higher on the day. At the opening of the market there was an inclination to offer stock, but things hardened up again at the close. Rubber Trust began with buyers at 44s. 6d., eased off to 44s. 3d. sellers, and finished 44s. 7½d. bid. Anglo-Dutch were firm all day, finishing 54s., Batu Kawan were in demand up to 43s. 9d., and Brich Rose 2s. to 42s. 6d. bid. Baru Java were ¼ up at 52s. 6d., and Braunston changed hands at 47s. 6d. Castlefield had a further jump to 8½, and Eow Eong at 57s. 6d. showed a rise of ½. Indian Peninsula advanced 1s. to 15s. 9d. buyers, and Java Invesement were firm at 47s. 6d., but Java Amalgamated were a shade lower at 44s. 9d. Nirmala Ord. eased a little with sellers at 28s. 3d. Pyre Rubber and Cocoanuts came into demand and advanced ¼ to 36s. 3d. bid, while Pilmoor hardened at 70s. 6d. Rises were also shown by Rim at 57s. 6d., Strathmore at 72s. 6d., and Tandjong at 5½. In the Floriner Division Chota were a little harder at 4s. 9d., but astern Sumatra declined a penny to 3s. 6d. There were sellers of Merlimau at 7s. 3d., and Straits Bertam offered at 9s., while United Serdang again weakened slightly to 15s. 9d. Active and strong conditions prevailed in the Boreno group. Kimanis were better at 25s. 9d. Langkon were freely bought around 22s. 6d., and the price finished higher at 25s. 1½d. Manchester N. B. were again in keen demand with transactions up to 46s. 3d., and Membakut hardened to 32s. North Borneo States Rubber appeared to be wanted at 17s. 3d., and Tenom were still inquired for around 68s. 9d.

COMING PROSPECTUS.

The Pullinger Engineering Co., Ltd., which has been formed with a capital of £250,000 in shares of £1 each, will issue early next week 200,000 shares at par for the purpose of manufacturing and marketing the "Speedy" light car, to be sold at the price of 110 guineas. The Pullinger Co. has been for some time past experimenting on a considerable scale on the production of a motor car embodying all the up-to-date improvements which could be sold at a price which would bring it within the purchasing power of the masses. In addition to the business of the Pullinger Engineering Co., the new concern will acquire that of the Inwood Motor and Engineering Co., Ltd., together with garages, workshops, plant, contracts, etc., and leasehold premises covering an area of about two and a half acres, thus enabling the company to assemble the car on the latest principles of massed production. These assets, exclusive of goodwill, are valued at over £35,000. It is stated that orders have been received from the trade for over 10,000 of the above-mentioned "Speedy" light cars. The managing director states that within two months of the company going to allotment he can assure a weekly output of 100 cars per week, and within a further two months the output would be increased to 200 cars weekly.

THE MARCONI WIRELESS TELEGRAPH CO., LTD.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—As the originator of the correspondence which you have admitted to your columns concerning the above company, I would ask permission to say a few final words. The suggestion has been made in your columns, and to me privately, that a meeting should be held of Irish shareholders to consider the terms of the proposed resolution at the meeting on the 13th inst. For my part, I do not see any great advantage in this course. No doubt, the directors have sufficient power to carry the proposed resolution, and my experience in these matters is that little is to be gained by fighting directors. In all the circumstances, I am satisfied with having been given the opportunity of entering an emphatic protest against the terms of the resolution, which, whatever may be said in their favour, undoubtedly convey to an unprejudiced mind a desire of the directors to obtain authority from the shareholders to issue the new capital how and when and to whom they please. If that is not the meaning of the resolution, then plain English has no meaning.—Yours, etc.,

SHAREHOLDER."

MARKET REPORTS.

GRAIN.—DUBLIN CORN EXCHANGE, Friday.—Our Exchange to-day was thinly attended, and trading apparently of narrow dimensions. Current gluts in the country are not generally acceptable to growers, and the latter are sending limited supplies forward under the circumstances. Proceedings at our Exchange to-day were dominated by a very dull and uncertain tone. Irish wheat remains nominally around 41/- to 42/9 per barrel, the appears to be valued at 44/- to 46/- and 47/6 per barrel; black oats, 35/6 to 36/-, and best offers for standard whites around 30/-, which is not generally secured, some holders looking for 31/- to 32/-, if not more. With regard to barley, there is some stirring of ideas, and country folk are disposed to put a reserve of 50/- on best malting qualities, but these pretensions above commission and expenses are not generally sensible at this end; buyers are offering about 3/- to 5/- per barrel less. No changes in foreign produce.

FLOATING GRAIN CARGOES.—BALTIC, Friday.—WHEAT—Allocations of No. 1 Northern Manitoba afloat at 60/-. LIVERPOOL, Friday.—River Plate Maize February-March shipment reported 65/- per qr. WHEAT on the spot was more active, and business included allocations of red hard winter and Manitoba at the official rates. MAIZE—Spot parcels were in moderate inquiry at rather a moderate inquiry on the Government terms. BEANS firm at 80/- for Rangoon. PEAS 84/-. FLOUR spring and Canadian held for more money. BARLEY and OATS firm. PROVISIONS—Demand at higher prices for tens descriptions. OATMEAL quiet, and Scotch easier in sales. MIXED OFFALS scarce at full prices. CHINA HORSE BEANS November-December held at £22 10/- per ton, and £20 refused. Canadian feed barley November quoted 71/6, and American feed 48/9 per qr.

WAKEFIELD CORN, Friday.—Very light supplies of grain of all descriptions, which, however, met a good country at late full rates. Best wheat 70/- to 105/- per quarter; oats, 50/- to 65/-, and wheat 70/-.

Lever's Palm Nut Cake and Meal, Dairy Cake and Meal, Poultry Spice.—Lever's Feeding Stuffs Dept., 36 North Circular road, Dublin. 'Phone 3617.—(Advt.)

PROVISIONS.—DUBLIN POTATO, Friday.—Supplies of potatoes are coming in fully sufficient for consumptive requirements. Trade very quiet, and city prices still inside 7/- to 8/- per cwt. for suitable quality tubers.

LONDON, Friday.—BUTTER—The distribution made consisted of Irish, Danish, Colonial, and Government descriptions; control prices. CHEESE—A distribution of home-made has commenced, and quality satisfactory. No news of imported shipment so far. Irish, best, 48/- to 50/-; Danish, 47/- to 49/-; Canadian, fresh, 46/- to 48/-; cold stored and repacked, 34/-; Canadian, fresh, 36/- to 37/-.

LIVERPOOL, Friday.—There was little change in the BACON situation here, Chicago cable advices marking a depreciation in values of both live hogs and products, and imports at that port showing a large increase, chiefly also from China, though the Ministry continues to allot quantities from the Argentine and Australia. Trade reports continue quiet, though squares attract a little more attention, but Irish sides and middles could be bought under. Mr. Rearden said the defendant that it was a case of mistaken identity, and that he was not at the races at all. He was prepared to give recognisance himself. The Court made an order admitting the defendant to bail, himself in £100 and two sureties in £100 each, the recognisances of the defendant to be taken in Limerick Jail and the other recognisances in Clare.

A SOLDIER'S WILL.—In the King's Bench Division (Probate), before Mr. Justice Kenny, in the goods of Leo F. Bodkin, deceased, Mr. Marnan (instructed by Messrs. Thomas F. O'Connell and Sons) applied on behalf of Captain John Bodkin, of Belmont, Galway, for an order that he be declared entitled to a grant of probate of a letter written by his cousin—the deceased—while on active service in Mesopotamia, and which was dated 30th March, 1917. The deceased had joined the Army from the Queen's College, Galway, at the outbreak of the Boer War, and had in 1917 been sent with the Indian Expeditionary Force to Mesopotamia. From Basrah, in that country, he wrote a letter to the applicant, in the course of which he said:—"I left Galway in such a hurry that I had not time to arrange everything before I left India. I am writing this to let you know me out you will have to look after my affairs. Should anything happen to me I leave it to you. Thanks to you, I am in a very solvent condition. . . . I am not worth except a few petty bills in India." . . . In October, 1918, he was wounded and was invalided to hospital in Mesopotamia, whence he was taken to Bombay, and placed in a military hospital at Colaba, suffering from malarial fever. On 9th May, 1919, after nine months in hospital he resumed duty at several military depots in India. He was again taken ill, and died on 29th August, 1919. The lady referred to as "Agnes" is a sister of the deceased, and resides in Lower Baggot street, Dublin. The deceased held the rank of Lieutenant, and was in 1917 left surviving him his mother and three brothers, Mr. Leo F. Bodkin, S.J.; Robert and Valentine, brothers, resident in Canada; and five sisters, two of whom are members of religious communities; the other being Mrs. Agnes Bodkin, the universal legatee named in the letter. The assets amounted to £3,000. Mr. Justice Kenny made an order, with the consent of the applicant, granting administration, with the will annexed, to Miss Agnes Bodkin, sister of the deceased officer and universal legatee.

LAW REPORTS.

BELFAST INSURANCE CASE.—In the King's Bench Division yesterday, before Mr. Justice Moore, in the intended action of Messrs. J. K. Wilson against the General Accident Insurance Company, Mr. H. M. Thompson (instructed by Mr. S. Ross) applied on behalf of the plaintiffs, who are merchants, carrying on business in Donegall street, Belfast, for an order giving them leave to issue and serve a writ out of the jurisdiction on the defendant company at their head office in Perth, Scotland. The defendant company had a branch office in Wellington street, Belfast, which was managed by their agent, Mr. Davidson. In June, 1918, they received a verbal proposal on behalf of the plaintiffs to insure certain goods belonging to them for £1,000. The proposal was transmitted to the defendants at their office in Perth, and subsequently Mr. Davidson called on the plaintiffs and handed them a policy, upon which they paid the first premium. The insurance was to last for one year, but before that period had expired a fire occurred on the plaintiffs' premises which destroyed a certain portion of the goods that were insured. A claim was made by the plaintiffs, but disputes arose between the parties with regard to what was covered by the policy, and as to the amount to be paid. The defendants, said counsel, refused arbitration. He submitted that under section 41 on which plaintiffs were suing had been made in Belfast. Mr. Justice Moore granted the application, and directed that service of the writ be made on the defendants at Perth by registered letter.

LOST WITH THE LUSITANIA.—In the King's Bench Division (Probate), before Mr. Justice Kenny, in the goods of Michael Galvin, deceased, Mr. Charles Kenny (instructed by Mr. M. Killeen) applied on behalf of John Galvin for liberty to presume the death of Michael Galvin, formerly of Derrytrasna, Kilmurry-Mc-Mahon, Co. Clare. This man resided at New York for several years. On Sunday, the 9th of May, 1915, his brother John, the applicant in this case, received a letter from him stating that he was embarking on the Lusitania at New York for the purpose of coming home to the County of Clare. The Lusitania was sunk off the south coast of Ireland on May 7th, and it was presumed that Galvin was lost with the ship, as he had never since been seen or heard of. The Cunard Company, replying to a letter from Mr. Killeen, stated that Michael Galvin was, according to the official record, a third class passenger on the Lusitania. The deceased, who was a general labourer, was unmarried, and had made no will. His assets amounted to nearly £500. The judge made an order presuming the death of Michael Galvin, and granted the applicant an order of administration of his estate.

SEQUEL TO LIMERICK RACE MEETING.—In the King's Bench Division, before Mr. Justice Dodd, Mr. Justice Gordon, and Mr. Justice Moore, in the case of the King v. O'Neill, Mr. Rearden (instructed by Mr. H. O'B. Moran) applied for an order admitting to bail the defendant, Ignatius O'Neill, shopkeeper, of Milltown-Malbay, Co. Clare, who is confined in Limerick Jail, having been returned for trial on a misdemeanour charge of illegal assembly. The offence, it is said, arose out of a race meeting which was to have been held in Limerick, and was afterwards cancelled on account of the riotous disturbances. At the request of counsel by the Chief (Crown Solicitor) said there was no objection to admitting the defendant to bail, but he directed attention to the fact that he was a substantial shopkeeper and the bail should be substantial, and the defendant should be bound over to keep the peace. There was a very serious case, because a most unprovoked assault had been made on the police. The race meeting was stopped at the last moment by a telegram having been sent to the paddock from the racing authorities in consequence of the attitude of the military and police. He suggested two sureties for £150 each, and asked that the defendant should be bound over. Mr. Rearden said the defendant was a small shopkeeper, and his contention was that it was a case of mistaken identity, and that he was not at the races at all. He was prepared to give recognisance himself. The Court made an order admitting the defendant to bail, himself in £100 and two sureties in £100 each, the recognisances of the defendant to be taken in Limerick Jail and the other recognisances in Clare.

NATIONAL SOCIETY FOR THE PREVENTION OF CRUELTY TO CHILDREN.

Meetings of the General and Executive Committees of the Dublin Branch of the National Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children were held at 20 Molesworth street, Dublin, on Tuesday—Sir Joseph M'Grath, Vice-Chairman, presiding. There was a large attendance of members at both meetings. Regrets for inability to attend were reported as received from—Mr. John Cooke, Hon. Treasurer; Mrs. Wisdom Hely, and Mrs. Watson. The annual report for year ending 31st March, 1919, was approved and adopted by the General Committee. The Chairman reported that it had been decided to hold the annual public meeting of the Branch on November 27th, at which a series of lantern slides, illustrating the curative side of the Society's work, would be shown by Mr. J. W. Storey, Organising Secretary for Ireland. The monthly report of work showed that 82 cases, involving the welfare of 164 children, had been dealt with. Of these cases 71 were of neglect, 6 of ill-treatment, and 5 of other wrongs. The Inspectors paid 515 visits of supervision during the month.

The receipts for October were reported as £79 8s. 2d. Of this amount £64 13s. 2d. were received from Mrs. Colthurst, proceeds of a fête kindly organised by her at Lucan House; also £11 from Mrs. St. George Lefroy, Hon. Secretary Clondalkin District Committee, who assisted by having a stall at the same fête.

Some correspondence was dealt with, and the Committee adjourned.

A DRY OCTOBER.

The rainfall for October at the Rectory, Castleconnell, Mrs. E. Davis writes, was .75 inches, and rain fell on but five days, the heaviest fall being .50 on 22nd. The total fall from January 1st to October 31st was 29.17 inches.

The rainfall at Portlaw, County Waterford, last month, .56 inches, was, Mr. John Anderson writes, the smallest for any October on record there. Other extremely dry Octobers were:—1862, .60 inches; 1893, .76 inches; 1879, .70 inches; 1905, .83 inches. The wettest October there was 1875—10.07 inches.

COMING PROSPECTUS.

The Pullinger Engineering Co., Ltd., which has been formed with a capital of £250,000 in shares of £1 each, will issue early next week 200,000 shares as per for the purpose of manufacturing and marketing the "Speedy" light car, to be sold at the price of 110 guineas. The Pullinger Co. has been for some time past experimenting on a considerable scale on the production of a motor car embodying all the up-to-date improvements which could be sold at a price which would bring it within the purchasing power of the masses. In addition to the business of the Pullinger Engineering Co., the new concern will acquire that of the Inwood Motor and Engineering Co., Ltd., together with garages, workshops, plant, contracts, etc., and leasehold premises covering an area of about two and a half acres, thus enabling the company to assemble the car on the latest principles of massed production. These assets, exclusive of goodwill, are valued at over £33,000. It is stated that orders have been received from the trade for over 10,000 of the two-seater "Speedy" light cars. The managing director states that within two months of the company going to allotment he can assure a weekly output of 100 cars per week, and within a further two months the output would be increased to 200 cars weekly.

THE MARCONI WIRELESS TELEGRAPH CO., LTD.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—As the originator of the correspondence which you have admitted to your columns concerning the above company, I would crave permission to say a few final words. The suggestion has been made in your columns, and to me privately, that a meeting should be held of Irish shareholders to consider the terms of the proposed resolution at the meeting on the 13th inst. I do not see any real or material advantage in this course. No doubt, the directors have sufficient power to carry the proposed resolution, and my experience in these matters is that there is not much to be gained by fighting directors. In all the circumstances, I am satisfied in having been given the opportunity of entering an emphatic protest against the terms of the resolution, which, whatever may be said in their favour, undoubtedly convey to an unprejudiced mind the desire of the directors to obtain authority from the shareholders to increase the capital how and when and to whom they please. If that is not the meaning of the resolution, then plain English has no meaning.—Yours, etc.,

"SHAREHOLDER."

MARKET REPORTS.

GRAIN.—DUBLIN CORN EXCHANGE, Friday.—Our Exchange today was thinly attended, and trading apparently of narrow dimensions.
